A timeless culinary legend - Regale in Opulence

"The Bombay Boys"

"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach", this statement stands true when we talk about Apna Chaat House, a joint venture started by Chef Jogi & Chef Bikram way back in 2007. Both heading from Bombay with diploma in culinary Arts and years of experience with the Taj group of hotels, Mumbai. The Apna Chaat house is one of its kind in Surrey BC, located on 120th Street, also featured in the magazine, "100 things to do before you die." They were at the Vancouver restaurant awards in 2014.

Mouth publicity is their only mantra. For those who prefer to tickle

WHAT'S ON OFFER?

Coming to the food, Apna Chaat House unveils its secret offerings, where every dish you partake is part of a saga and every recipe, a piece of gastronomic history. The menu is vast, catering from Indian street food to Indian Style Chinese. Their specialities include omelette pav, Pav Bhaji, Vada Pav & Bhel Puri, a new must try dish, mouth watering golgappas with its standing counter takes you down the memory lane to the streets of India, punjabi mix chaat, chilli idli's, chicken lollipop and much more....For the drinks one should definitely try the mango lassi and royal falooda drink, topping up with malai kulfi falooda desert. The restaurant is on its way to add to their splendid menu, dhokla's from Gujrat, raj kachori and the famous milk badam from Punjab. Not to forget the chai pakora combo which has always been the heart beat of punjabis. Apart from the adults, Apna Chaat House has something to offer to the kid's also. Kid's meal includes chicken nuggets, sandwiches, kid's burger & noodles. All kid's meals are served with drinks and fries.
